History Pen Pals

Sherrie' Raleigh our Archway professional has requested some help with one of our upcoming Archway projects. The project involves a group of students in Dr. Elizabeth Davis's UGA English class "Writing for Communities". These students are researching river travel and how the Ocmulgee River influenced Hawkinsville in historic times. Dr. Davis would like to pair the students with some community "pen pals" so the students can ask questions and learn more about Hawkinsville and Pulaski County.

If you are willing to correspond with some of the students, please contact Sherrie' at (706)765-7036 or email @ lisa.raleigh@uga.edu. Or if you know someone who would make a good email correspondent for the students, please send her their name/email. Thank you so much for any help. ~ Sandy

THE FUTURE OF RETAIL: CREATIVE APPROACHES TO PLACE-BASED ENTREPRENEURSHIP

As trends suggest a long-term shift away from traditional bricks-and-mortar retail, Main Streets will need to continue to find new ways to draw people downtown. The Future of Retail: Creative Approaches to Place-Based Entrepreneurship provides a roadmap on how to adapt to the evolving retail landscape by capitalizing on what Main Street has always done well: providing experiences, serving as incubators for entrepreneurs, offering socially-conscious local products and services, and fostering social engagement through innovative programming and place. It also includes a retail audit tool you can use to ensure your downtown is positioned to thrive well into the future. Click on the guide to the left to download.

In your own Backyard . . .

Ocmulgee Wildlife Management Area

Ocmulgee Wildlife Management & Public Fishing Area is located in Bleckley, Pulaski and Twiggs counties. This is a 21,243 acre Wildlife Management Area and Public Fishing Area open to hunting seasonally and other activities year-round. For hours of operation, visit <http://www.georgiawildlife/ocmulgee-wma.com> or call (770) 761-3014.

Facilities: concrete boat ramps, fishing piers, restrooms, picnic tables, pavilion, some facilities are accessible to persons with disabilities.

Activities

Boating/Canoeing: There are boat launches for access to the parks waterways.

Camping: There are two campgrounds in Ocmulgee WMA. All camps must be in designated campgrounds, unless otherwise indicated or posted at the WMA check station. See guidelines at station.

Fishing: The public fishing area is home to a 106 acre lake and one special event pond. Visitors can expect to catch large-mouth bass, crappie, bluegill, redear sunfish, channel catfish. Unless otherwise posted, fishing is allowed on WMAs according to statewide regulations. A fishing license only is required to fish on WMAs. A fishing license and a WMA license is required to fish on state Public Fishing Areas (PFAs). A WMA license is not required for anglers possessing a valid 1-day, Honorary/Disability, Sportsman or Lifetime License.

Hiking: The trail system is largely un-maintained roads and limited foot paths. Those exploring off trails should take a map and compass. Geocaching is not allowed during managed hunts or before 10AM during turkey season.

Hunting: Deer, turkey, small game and furbearers. Contact Georgia DNR for more information, regulations and seasons.

Picnicking/Wildlife Viewing: Picnic tables are located at the public fishing area and at campgrounds throughout the park.

Shooting/Archery: There is an excellent archery and shooting range in the park.

While making plans to attend this year's Ocmulgee RiverFest, we ask that you help us by taking extra precautions to make this event as safe as possible. So, with much discussion, thought and with the help and approval of the South-Central Health District Office, we have decided to proceed with this event along with instituting the following guidelines & instructions that abide by the Governor's Executive Order:

We are going to spread out all activities throughout the park in order to be able to give everyone plenty of room to social distance. Signs will be displayed all over the park to guide and instruct participants.

- We are asking anyone who is feeling sick or has been around someone who has tested positive for COVID-19 in the 14 days prior to this event to stay home.

- We are asking that if you attend this event, that you have a mask available for everyone in your party and that everyone wears their mask during the event, especially if they are in a situation that they can't social distance, such as when they are at a vendor booth paying for a purchase. We will have extra masks available for FREE if you don't have one.

- We are asking participants to follow social distancing guidelines by keeping a distance of 6 feet between you and people not in your party whenever possible throughout the event.

- Hand Sanitizer and hand washing stations will be available throughout the park in addition to the restrooms located in the park. Please wash your hands frequently.

- Picnic tables are available at the park; however, we are asking that you bring your lawn chair if able, so that further social distancing can be adhered to. This is particularly important during mealtimes, the concert and fireworks.

Our goal is to provide a safe and fun event for the community. We will sanitize the restrooms and surfaces throughout the day. If you don't feel comfortable coming, we totally understand. Everyone is welcome to attend this event at their own discretion as you are responsible for your own health and safety. If you do want to come, let's make this a great time for everyone! Please be considerate of the volunteers and other participants and abide by these guidelines.

Thank you and we look forward to seeing you at the first ever Ocmulgee RiverFest,

Hardy cousins will work for peanuts

First of all, it's a family farm." That's how Ken Hardy sets about describing Hardy Farms Peanuts in Hawkinsville. Ken and Brad Hardy are part of the third generation to work at the family owned business in 70-plus years. As first cousins and classmates from kindergarten through graduation from the University of Georgia in Athens, their shared upbringing has made for a close and collaborative working relationship. The pair was originally charged with expanding the company's operations into the boiled peanut market. They started by opening roadside boiled peanut stands around their home base in Middle Georgia in the late 1990s. Since then, the Hardy's have added more than 25 peanut stands to the business—and solved the mystery of who their biggest fans are. "If little kids had their own money, we'd be multimillionaires. They go bananas for boiled peanuts!" Ken Hardy says. And then there are the company's innovative new products, like dill pickle flavored peanuts. They won first place in the snack food category in the University of Georgia's Flavor of Georgia Food Product Contest last year and are part of the company's retail line of roasted peanuts. Despite the work involved with expanding both their product line and their market reach, the company and family have remained closely knit. Ken admits with a laugh that "family members are quick to call you out; there's a humility that comes with [working in a family business]. Working together keeps you close and builds bonds that wouldn't be there if you weren't seeing each other every day." As Brad Hardy remembers, "we had pretty good success with the boiled peanuts, but as everybody knows, it's a Southern product." To bring their products to a wider audience, they next moved into the roasted peanut business. "We joke that roasted peanuts opened the world to us, [but] it really has," he says. They now supply an international market with oil- and dry-roasted peanut ingredients for products like candies and nut butters. "We've got trucks going out every day to different parts of the country. We send peanuts to Europe, Mexico and Canada." Other innovations followed. A secret technique for extending the shelf life of their boiled green peanuts allowed them to bring their flagship product to supermarket shelves.

Helen Newling Lawson is a freelance writer living in Forsyth County, taken from the August 2020 issue of GEMC's Georgia Magazine.

To find out more about the Hardy Farms lineup of peanut products, call (888) 368-6887 or visit hardyfarmspeanuts.com. For a list of the company's boiled peanut stands, see hardyfarmspeanuts.com/locations.

17,000 Years of Continuous Human Habitation

Welcome to Ocmulgee Mounds National Historical Park. This park is a prehistoric American Indian site. American Indians first came here during the Paleo-Indian period hunting Ice Age mammals. Many different American Indian cultures occupied this land for thousands of years. Around 900 CE, the Mississippian Period began. They constructed mounds for their elite, which remain today. The park lands now extend down the Ocmulgee River to Hawkinsville.

2020 Back To School Bash ~ New Drive thru Platform Successful

We had another successful "Back to School Bash" earlier this month at Central Georgia Technical College. The community really stepped up and provided more monetary funds and supplies that we received last year! Thanks for always coming through! Our donations were provided by Lisa's Chics, New Vision Ministries, Christian Hope Baptist Church, The Hawkinsville Housing Authority, Lavada Luke, Diana Carney, Planter's First Bank, Cyber Solutions, Inc., Taylor Regional Hospital, Loyalty Inn, Drew Cravey with Edward Jones, The Corner Market, LaCabana's Mexican Restaurant, Way Brothers, Inc., Bestway Towing & Recovery, Hollingsworth & Vose, Pulaski County Farm Bureau, Coley Insurance & Realty, Michael & Jaclyn King, Mitsy Campbell, The Steakhouse Restaurant, David McCall and Family, SunMark Community Bank, Middle Georgia EMC, Lancaster Farms, Heart of Georgia Peanut & Gin, Mercer University, Pulaski County Department of Health, Hawkinsville-Pulaski Fire Department, Pulaski Head Start, M.E. Roden Memorial Library, Pulaski County Family Connection, Resilient Middle Georgia, and the 2020Census.

A special THANK YOU goes out to the Fire Department for always cooking for us, to the Sheriff's department for providing traffic control, to Harvey's Supermarket for providing FREE bottled water for the event and to Dairy Queen for baling us out at the last minute with FREE ketchup and mustard packets for the hot dogs! Harris Kuntry Meats & Grocery had also helped us out with our order for food for the event. We also had several volunteers that helped and local businesses and agencies vendors that provided extra goodies for the children, along with the school supplies. You all are truly hometown heroes and we could NOT have done this without you!
