DOWNTOWN HAWKINSVILLE LOCAL HISTORIC DISTRICT

The National Register District boundaries served as a beginning point for exploring the designation of a local downtown district and full protection of the historic buildings located there. The Hawkinsville Historic Preservation Commission initiated a study of the area for the purposes of creating a local historic district. The study's recommendation was that a local historic district focused on the downtown, excluding the industrial area, would best match the community's goal. The Historic Preservation Commission held public hearing and forwarded this recommendation to the City Commission. The City Commission Designated the Hawkinsville Downtown Historic District December 3, 2007. The District is represented by the map below.
